Fire On West Hill

The farm home of Owen Coan on the old Bates farm, on West Hill, was destroyed by fire early Tuesday morning with practically all of the furniture and cream separator.

Mrs. Coan is away on a visit and after building a fire in the kitchen stove. Mr. Coan went to do the barn chores. Upon coming out of the barn some time later he discovered the house was in flames. There was $600. insurance on the house and $1000. on the furniture.

W. C. T. U.

The October meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held next Friday afternoon, Oct. 7, in the vestry of the Congregational church. Mrs. Inez Stewart, leader.

Final plans for the State Convention here soon, will be discussed, and every member is urged to be present.

The Soliciting committee will canvass the village this week for lodging and entertainment of the delegates, and it is hoped there will be a liberal response, as about one hundred are expected.

Semper Fidelis Class

The Semper Fidelis Class of the M. E. Church was very pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. J. A. Brooks last Friday afternoon with sixteen members present.

After the devotional and business session a social time was enjoyed, followed with refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee. A rising vote of thanks was extended Mrs. Brooks for her kind hospitality and the pleasant time enjoyed.

Shower Prospective Bride

At the pleasant farm home of W. W. Gilbert south of this village Monday evening, Miss Susan Delano was tendered a miscellaneous shower in honor of her approaching marriage to Earl Ladeau of Burlington. Upon returning from a visit with her cousin, Mrs. P. R. Davis, in this village, Miss Delano found a household of guests awaiting her, with plans aplenty for a busy hour of mystery and mirth, which was enjoyed by all, even the surprised hostess. Following the program, which was carried out as arranged, in which the bride-to-be was the recipient of many nice presents in cut glass, China, linen, etc., the guests were ushered to the dining-room, where refreshments of wafers, cake, sandwiches, pumpkin pie and coffee were served. The decorations in the dining-room were autumn leaves, the centerpiece being a doll dressed as a bride.

RISKS LIFE TO ESCAPE

Twenty-foot Jump Better Than Facing Judge LaFountain. Later Escapes Jail.

Among the exciting police court happenings that have startled Morrisville people the past week, the jump from the second story window of the Fleetwood block by Ernest Vennette, in trying to escape from the officers last Friday afternoon was probably the most spectacular of any. Young Vennette, who is 19 years of age and of quite small stature, while waiting in the rear office for his trial on charges of stealing, jumped from the window on the Portland street side, landed on his feet and hid in the hatchway on the east side of the building, where he was soon found by the officers. After a hearing he was locked up in the jail at Hyde Park for safe keeping.

Not satisfied with his unsuccessful leap for liberty, the young man decided to try again and succeeded in making a rather remarkable get-away from Sheriff Stevens, hostelry. Shortly after noon Saturday, clothed in only a pair of trousers and a light shirt, belonging to Sheriff Stevens, which had been loaned him while Mrs. Stevens was generously laundering his wardrobe, and a pair of shoes. Vennette went to the women's quarters, where he discovered an air-shaft, about a foot wide the largest way, and running by quite a sharp incline upward to the wall of the building. Although it would seem impossible to the ordinary layman, Vennette succeeded in crawling up this shaft to the opening, where he soon removed some slats and jumped to the ground. He had been gone about an hour when the other prisoners got word to the Sheriff.

In this connection it is only fair to state that this escape is no fault of Sheriff Stevens. The fault lies in neglect when the jail was built to not put bars on the ventilator window, the same as were put on the other window.

The young man is said to have come to town Thursday, walking from a farm on the Shelburne road, near Burlington, where he claims he was employed during the summer months. He is said to have stolen a bicycle in Morrisville early Thursday and rode the wheel for some distance after noon he is alleged to have stolen a horse and then abandoned it. On Thursday from the farm of L. P. Chamberlain.

He drove or rode the horse about for some time and hitched it in an abandoned barn on the Elmore mountain road. He is then alleged to have gone to the farm of L. D. Bliss on the Elmore Mountain road, where he tried to steal a shotgun but was detected and sent about his business. From this place he went to another farm nearby, occupied by a Mr. King and is alleged to have stolen a quantity of food. Reports were of course made to the authorities and Deputy Sheriff Kelley of this town started to track the man. He succeeded in finding him late Thursday night at the home of Harry Smith, where he had hired out and retired. He was then placed in the county jail and kept there until he was brought before Judge LaFountain for a preliminary hearing. It was during this hearing that the get-away act was unsuccessfully staged.

SAVE THESE DATES

This week the village is being solicited for lodging and breakfasts for delegates and visitors to the State W. C. T. U. Convention, which is coming to Morrisville for Oct. 18, 19, and 20. Indications point to the largest meeting which has been held in recent years, and the ready response of all is invited.

The day sessions will be held in the Methodist Church, also for Tuesday and Thursday evenings. On Wednesday evening it will be held in the Congregational church.

The program is being put upon a broad basis by the capable President, Mrs. Elsie Pease Barney, who is well known to many and who recently returned from the National Convention at San Francisco.

The big feature of the Convention is to be the address on Wednesday evening by that eloquent and forceful orator, Mrs. Mary Harris Armer of Georgia. Vermont is the 47th state of the Union to secure her services and is very fortunate in doing so. She is a rapid speaker, yet is clearly understood; stirring, intellectual, and generous in manner she wins hearty applause wherever she appears. Come early if you wish a seat. It is free.

Norton-Greene

Morrisville relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Max Greene of Middleton Springs have received cards announcing the marriage of their daughter Miss Esther Greene to Perry Clark Norton of Cambridge Mass., on September 20.

The family formerly lived in Morrisville and the bride was a graduate of Peoples Academy. Congratulations.

A. C. Flanders has leased the C. H. Duba blacksmith shop on Pleasant street and took possession Saturday. Mr. Duba who has been in business here for over 25 years, will take a well earned vacation.

THE EARLE STORE

Have you seen our Fancy Petticoats at $1.25? They are pretty and cheap in price.

GEO. F. EARLE, Portland St., Morrisville.

Hugh Wallace

Hugh Wallace who had been ill and confined to his home on Brooklyn street for a week, died Monday at about 2:30 a. m. Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 p. m., from the house, the Rev. W. T. Best of the Methodist church officiated. Interment was made in Pleasant View Cemetery.

Mr. Wallace was born in Kinnears Mills Leeds, P. Q., 41 years ago, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Wallace. On February 5, 1900 he was united in marriage to Miss Ida A. Noyes of Hardwick, coming here about 10 years ago to reside.

The deceased is survived by his wife, also two sisters, Mrs. Charles Gregory of Newport, R. I., Mrs. Harry Gregory of St. Johnsbury and three brothers, James W. Wallace, of Leeds, P. Q., Thomas Wallace, St. of Johnsbury and R. C. Wallace of this village.

Mr. Wallace was an expert stone cutter having worked at the business for many years and had only returned to the shed a few months ago, after having conducted a wood business in Morrisville for several years.

Hugh was an honest and industrious citizen and his jovial disposition and open heartedness made for him a host of friends here and in Hardwick where he resided before coming to Morrisville. He was a member of the Odd Fellows lodge in Hardwick and of the Stone Cutters' Union.

His death came as a great shock to the community, being due to pericarditis caused by an accident suffered, while lifting, ten days previous to his death. Dr. C. H. Boecher of Burlington was called in consultation Friday and Dr. Allen of St. Johnsbury, assisted by Dr. A. J. Valen, performed an operation Saturday, but medical skill was of no avail.

Death of Morillo Wood

Morillo Wood, a life long resident of Morrisville, died at the home of his brother, Ami Wood in the west part of Morrisville, last Friday, at the age of 68 years, from the effects of erysipelas, from which he had suffered since Wednesday. Death followed a long period of ill health, the deceased having been unable to do any work for several years.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the home, Rev. G. F. Fottier of the Universalist church officiating. Interment was in the family lot in Mountain View Cemetery at Morrystown Corners, beside his wife. The bearers were Rosee and Leon Davis of Jeffersonville, J. L. Bannister and Clyde Wood.

In early life Mr. Wood was united in marriage to Sarah Chaffee, who died five years ago. Morillo leaves a large number of friends who will long cherish his memory.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Mould, Charles Mould and Miss Ida Welch were in Burlington last Friday night to hear John McCormack. They made the trip with John Stiles in the latter's car.
